

Understanding Your Child's Relationship with Social Media

Social Media Awareness Program

American Leadership and Policy Foundation

Who We Are: American Leadership and Policy Foundation (ALPF) is a national, think-tank organization whose vision is to enhance civic engagement and citizen participation through education and the dissemination of public policy information based in open discussion and rigorous verifiable research.

ALPF has launched the Children Protected from Radicalization (CPR) program which is supported by research from national thought leaders, experts and professionals trained in topics of countering violent extremism (CVE), terrorist de-radicalization, terrorist radicalization, social media awareness, cyberbullying, radical ideologies, sextortion, and global security issues.

What it Is: Social Media Awareness Program: Understanding Your Child's Relationship with Social Media.

1-hour presentation in evening to parents, students, and school staff, includes Q&A session, and handouts/resources

Presentation includes statistics about the power of social media, sextortion, cyberbullying, social norms of student behaviors on social media, social media and privacy, sexting, information on how schools can develop a social media education program, how social media issues can explode until it is unmanageable by the student, and responsible social media practices that can be supported both at home and in schools.

Cost: Free

How: If you are interested in offering this program to your parents, students, and staff, please contact Kerry O'Brien Smith, PhD (ABD), Senior Fellow, and National Director of CPR at the American Leadership and Policy Foundation at kobriensmith@gmail.com or 804.691.5672.